PRESERVE THE LANDMARKS

The Act Respecting Provincial Parks, which is now going through the legisla-ture, is a good deal broader in scope than the name would suggest. Under its pro-visions the Government is taking power, not only to create provincial parks, but to preserve sites and objects of historic or other scientific interest. A measure of

WHY NOT THE COMMITTEE?

The taxpayers of the province will ex-rience no keen disappointment at the usal of the Provincial Government to point a commission to ransack the earth search of a new school system for Alat little inconvenience and with little cost of time or money.

No harm would have been done, and considerable good might have resulted, had this latter proposal been accepted. There is no evidence of wild anxiety on the second act brought into effect before another year. And it would be well to demonstrate, just for a change, that the members of a legislative body in Canada are capable of doing a little studying on missioners to pre-digest every question of importance for them, or taking the judgment of a minister as the last word on the subject.

OLIVER GETS WINNING GOAL ON A PASS FROM GALBRAITH

Longeat Game in Pro Hockey History — Dunc Munro Scored First Goal in Second Period and Weiland Equalized — Game Was a Classic Gandian Press.

MONTHEAL, Que. March 21.—After 45 minutes of over time, the longeat game in the history of professional hockey, Boston Bruins scored the odd goal which beat Montreal Maroons 2-1 in the first game between the two first place teams of the playdowns for the Stanley Cup Injudydowns or regular sessions, and although the Bruins fully deserved their victory, no professional hockey league game has ever been closer or fought to a greater finish show a degree of supremear. A stonewall defence, a flashy forward line and spectacular work in the nest featured both teams. Over 13,000 people saw the history-making struggle.

and Selling Fine Clothes Save Weeks in Presenting the New Styles and Dollars in the Cost of Them.

National Clothes Shops possess facilities unequalled in Canada for the tailoring of fine clothes ahead of the regular season. We are in constant touch with the world's leading style centres, which keeps us constantly and accurately informed on style tendencies. We are in continuous touch with the public, because we sell through our own stores, and thus can communicate their preferences to our designers direct instead of through round about channels. Thus Canadian men who come to National get the styles of tomorrow today.

And that is not allour unusual methods offer shrewd clothing buyers. You pay less for quality because we buy straight from the sources of material-and sell straight to our wearers. In-between costs, that mount the price of ordinary clothes, are eliminated -all of which you save. It will pay you to investigate National Clothes before you buy this Spring.

If you're unusual!
